She took the midnight train goin' a - ny - where

Just a city boy            born and raised in South Detroit

C                    G                                    Em Em F (sustain)
He took the midnight train goin' a - ny - where

C                    G                    Am                                    F
A singer in a smoky room            a smell of wine and cheap perfume

C                                    G                                    Em                                    F
For a smile they can share the night            it goes on and on, and on, and on

Chorus:

F                                    C
Strangers waiting            up and down the boulevard

F                                    C
Their shadows searching in the night

F                                    C
Streetlights    people            living just to find emotion

F                                    G
Hiding somewhere in the night

C                    G            Am                                    F
Working hard to get my fill            everybody wants a thrill

C                    G                                    Em Em F (sustain)
Payin' anything to roll the dice            just one more time

C                    G                    Am                                    F
Some will win,    some will lose            some were born to sing the blues

C                    G                                    Em                                    F
Oh, the movie never ends            it goes on and on, and on, and on
